Our Teacher

Ms. Connie Chang: Ms. Chen graduated from Lynbrook High School at Cupertino. She obtained her Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education from Northwestern University. Ms. Chen has been a full-time math teacher at a private high school in San Jose for 5 years. Having gone through the high school locally herself and been a teacher, she understands clearly what are the important skills and concepts that students must master before going to high schools. Ms. Chen is looking forward to getting to know each student and build a class that will prepare them for high school mathematics.

Ms. Qinfang Wang: Ms. Wang graduated from Northwest Polytechnic University in China, majored in Chemical Engineering. After coming to US, she initially became a stayed at home mom, and tutored math part time. Having brought up two daughters through Palo Alto School District to UC Berkeley, Ms. Wang is very familiar with the math curriculum at secondary schools and knows what are important for students to be successful even after high schools. Ms. Wang is also a leader at her bible study group and is famous of being extremely caring and responsible!
